Availability of Financial Aid and Grants

There are some regular assistantships that are offered to the PhD as well as masters students. Most of the assistantships that are offered are in the departments of: Agriculture, biochemistry, microbiology, mathematics, and economics. Those can be checked online at www.siuc.edu. We recommend that one should start applying early to have a good chance of getting the assistantship.

City Information

The city is more of a college town with population about 50,000. living expenses is really reasonable and affordable as it takes about $550 to $600 for rent as well as the monthly bills of electricity, water, and trash.

Weather conditions

The weather differs from one season to another as it is hot in summer with maximum of 95 F. it gets better during the fall as it reaches 65F and in winter it is mostly in 40's but there is some days that it goes below 32F which is below 0C.

City Attractions

Good city to study, but if you are looking for fun, do not consider Carbondale. This city has a good variety of Arabs who are very helpful and intelligent.

City Drawbacks

Very small city that might seem boring to some people.
