City Information

Salt Lake City is the state capital and most populous city in the U.S. state of Utah. The population of the city reached 2.4 million in 2006. The city occupies the north end of the Salt Lake Valley at an elevation of 4,330 feet (1,320 m). The valley is surrounded by mountains that rise dramatically to an elevation of 11,752 feet (3,582 m). Named after the nearby Great Salt Lake—in fact, the original name was "Great Salt Lake City"—the city is separated from the shores of the lake by marshes and mudflats. The city is also famous for having the best snow on earth and people come here for skiing in winter. Salt Lake City was the host city of the 2002 Winter Games and is the home of the Mormons! People are friendly and conservative. The crime rate here is low. The prices are reasonable and taxes are low compared to other states.

Weather conditions

Salt Lake City enjoys four separate seasons.

- Summer is usually warm, dry, and sunny with low humidity.
- Fall starts to bring the colors out with cooler temperatures.
- Winter usually enjoys above freezing temperatures during the day with powdery snow in the mountains.
